Intense Pulsed Light

What is IPL?

IPL is a fast and gentle treatment using flashes of visible light to rejuvenate the skin. In particular it targets skin pigment found in age spots, redness and pigmentation caused by sun damage. You will feel a faint sting as the light hits the skin followed by a warm sensation.

What will IPL do for me?

IPL will reduce the appearance of pigmentation, redness, age spots, sun spots and uneven skin tone. The end result being the fastest way to achieve younger, fresher looking skin. Ideal for the face, backs of hands, neck and chest areas.

How many treatments are recommended?

From two to three, 30 minute treatments may be necessary. An SPF30 must be worn daily when undergoing IPL treatment. Avoid sun-bathing or self-tanning for one month before and after each IPL treatment.

Active Vitamin Infusion

What is Active Vitamin Infusion?

A non-surgical option that uses sound waves to penetrate Vitamin A and C deeply into the skin. Using a combination of two highly sophisticated scientific methods the Environ Ionzyme DF machine is the most effective in the world today for enhancing penetration of vitamins into the skin, leading to younger, brighter, firmer skin.

What will Active Vitamin Infusion do for me?

This treatment firms an ageing skin, clears uneven texture and colour and deeply hydrates to achieve radiant and resilient skin.

How many treatments are recommended?

For optimum skin condition an Active Vitamin Infusion should be undertaken weekly for 12 weeks and followed by monthly maintenance treatments. Alternatively it can be combined with other combination therapies.

Photo Facial

What is Omnilux?

Photo Facials are safe, painless, non-invasive treatments using light of different wavelengths. Omnilux Combination Phototherapy is the result of years of medical research in the UK, and is now extensively used by medical professionals world-wide.

Photo Facials stimulate natural processes in the body to rejuvenate the skin. They are used to treat many skin concerns, including acne, ageing (hydration, firmness, wrinkles and pigmentation), skin healing and psoriasis.

For optimum results, a course of treatments is normally prescribed, with occasional maintenance treatments to prolong the results. Your skin will continue to improve, even after your light treatment course has ended.

Different Omnilux lights operate at varying wavelengths of light to stimulate different cellular responses within the cell, so the light chosen for your treatment will differ depending on your skin concerns.

Acne Photo Facial (Omnilux Blue)

How does it work?

A course of Acne Photo Facials (Omnilux Blue) targets the bacteria that cause the redness and inflammation of acne. It eradicates the bacteria without damaging normal tissues, and works with the body's own natural processes to heal and restore skin back to naturally good health. Combined with Omnilux Revive Photo Facials (which have anti-inflammatory properties – see below), as well as AHA/BHA skin peels to soften the skin and normalise oils, this powerful alternative to harmful drugs can deliver excellent results for acne sufferers.

How long does the treatment take?

Best results are usually seen four to eight weeks after completing the course, with studies showing over 80% of acne lesions cleared. Once you have completed your course, maintenance treatments will prolong the results. An acne Photo Facial course usually involves three peels and nine light therapy treatments, and it may also include homecare products prescribed to work alongside the treatments.

Rejuvenation Photo Facial (Omnilux Revive)

What is a Rejuvenation Photo Facial?

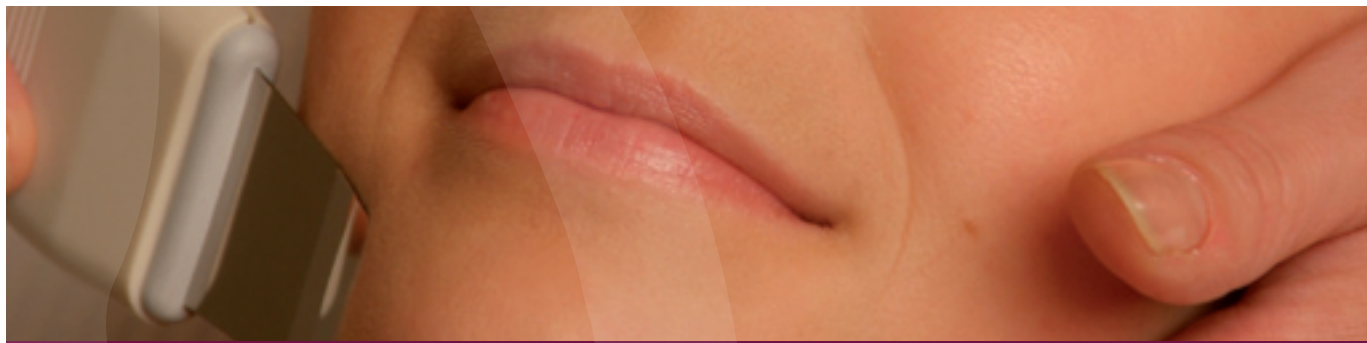

A Rejuvenation Photo Facial helps minimise the visible signs of ageing by stimulating the skin's natural production of collagen. During treatment you will experience a pleasant, warm feeling not dissimilar to lying in the sun for 20 minutes, but without the damaging effects.

What will it do for me?

A Rejuvenation Photo Facial is particularly effective at restoring the cells back to optimum health. It detoxifies, plumps up, hydrates and soothes the skin naturally. In simple terms, it is a deep treatment for the area of the skin that a therapist's hands can't reach.

How many treatments are recommended?

A Rejuvenation Photo Facial can be a 30-minute single treatment to refresh the skin, or a course of about nine treatments. Once you have completed your course, monthly maintenance treatments will help prolong the results. It is an ideal treatment to add to a facial or combine with Micro-dermabrasion and IPL for even better results.

Rejuvenation Photo Facial/Micro-dermabrasion Combo $180

Intensive Rejuvenation and Skin Healing Photo Facial (Omnilux Plus)

What will it do for me?

Omnilux Plus is the newest Photo Facial for intense skin rejuvenation. It stimulates tissue remodelling and improves collagen production; accelerating the wound-healing response, and leads to a softening of lines, wrinkles and crows' feet, as well as improved skin tone and super-smooth skin.

How does it work?

Omnilux Combination Phototherapy Plus (together with Omnilux Revive) works with the body's own natural process to counteract the effects of ageing. The initial effects are a clearer, brighter complexion. After a course of treatments, you will see an improvement in skin tone, clarity and smoothness, as well as softening of your fine lines and wrinkles.

Omnilux Plus treatment reduces healing times. When used before or after IPL or surgery it greatly reduces the side effects and speeds up the time your tissues take to regenerate, so you recover more quickly.
